SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

I herewith submit the customary annual report of the Superintendent of Schools to the citizens of the town. It may be of interest to notice, at first, the number of children and the number of families having children within our town, as computed from the face of the school census, taken January last, except that in Dist. 1, I have taken the returns of last year on account of the failure of the present Clerk to make returns. There are 368 families, of whom 238 have children. Of these children, 127 are under five years of age, 123 between five and ten, 155 between ten and fifteen, and 132 between fifteen and twenty, making a total of 537 children.

The town scholarship at the State Normal School has this year been taken up by a resident of the town, and there has also been one other representative of the town there. My observation of the schools under the charge of the Normal School graduates, has confirmed my belief that a course in such a school is of inestimable value to those intending to teach in common schools. By advocating a special course of training for teachers, no slight to home interests is intended. Our town is large enough to support a school where instruction may be had in the higher studies. If private or corporate enterprise can maintain such a school, we ought to patronize it, rather than to send our children away to school. If both fail—and they seem to have done so—I would recommend to the town, or to such portions as can combine for such a purpose, to consider at or before the next school-meeting, the plan of establishing and maintaining a school where a practical business education may be obtained. It was for this purpose that the State Superintendent visited the town last year; and, though he warmly advocated the town system of schools, I do not think it fully adapted to our present wants, but would rather advise a union of several districts, such that the respective districts should lose almost none of their privileges, while the central school should also receive its share of the public money. Such a school would meet the wants of the majority, and cost but little. A discussion of this matter at town-meeting would do no harm.

The officers of the various districts seem to fail occasionally of informing themselves in regard to their duties. Of the sixteen district Clerks only five have met the requirements of the law in matters connected with the Superintendent. I hope there will be a change in this matter, and I would advise all candidates for the office of Clerk to read carefully Act 53, of the last Legislature. During the past year several districts have voted only twenty weeks of school and then have fallen short one or two days on account of lost time. Now the law requires twenty full weeks, and it would prevent any legal question that might arise if every district would make sure of at least one hundred days of actual teaching.

I am sorry to state that there have been no new school houses built, nor any extended repairs made, the past year.

The schools themselves have not had so high a degree of success as might have been hoped. While the majority have shown a reasoable, in some cases a remarkable, degree of advancement, some have fallen far short of what they should have been. It is hard to say just where the trouble lies. It is not generally in the education of the teacher, for some of the better scholars keep poorer schools. I believe that the parents and the voters of the districts might remedy the greater part of the trouble. The parents could help by giving instruction to their children in courtesy and obedience at home, and by teaching them to honor and obey their teachers in school; and the voters would aid greatly by electing the most suitable Prudential Committee, and by encouraging him to secure the very best teacher and the very best school. These things are done in some districts, and the almost inevitable result is a good school. In our own town, Districts 12 and 19 are good examples to follow in these matters.

During the year there have been one or two applications to me to revoke certificates, but, knowing that a contract between a district and a teacher is not to be broken or interfered with unless there be positive reasons for so doing, I have declined to interfere, on the ground that no evidence was brought forward to sustain any charge, and the school itself did not prove "beyond a reasonable doubt" the unfitness of the teacher.

The tables of statistics annexed are nearly correct, and give a good view of the schools of the past year. A few are not yet finished. Board has been estimated at $2.00 per week and added into the wages, when it has been furnished by the district without a fixed price.

In closing, I would urge all citizens to attend school-meeting, and there make all possible provision against any chance for a poor school, by electing the right man for Committee, and by furnishing him the means to put the school-house in a suitable condition, and hire a first-class teacher. Then let all beware of undoing the work by needless fault-finding.

In the administration of the Poor Department appearances indicate good management. The very good appearance of the house and its six inmates—the condition of the barns, other outbuildings, and fences, (90 rods of which have been built the past fall), all speak well for the faithfulness of those in charge. One hundred and forty-six tramps have been supplied with two hundred and ninety-four meals during the year.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

Another school year has passed and has seen our schools more prosperous than usual. In no case has your Superintendent been called upon to settle any difficulties, and most of the schools have shown a marked degree of progress. Of course it is not to be expected that every school will be a decided success, but I think the thoroughly poor have been hardly a respectable minority.

We often ask, doubtless, what constitutes a good school. Good order is a fundamental necessity; for without this there can be no close attention paid to the studies that should occupy the whole mind of the scholar. The best results, indeed, depend on a degree of order such that no one is prevented by any unnecessary or unusual noise from performing his allotted tasks. The instruction should be given in a way that is adapted to the needs of the scholar. It is a great art to make the rules of arithmetic plain to a young scholar, and the study of geography or grammar interesting to him; and those that can interest the scholars the most deeply in the studies before them, are the most successful teachers. In the good school we also expect to find neatness on the part of teacher and scholars. Morals are not forgotten, but all swearing, quarrelling, insolence to passers-by, and similar habits are held in check. In short, a good school is where the teacher secures good order without extreme severity, inspires the scholars with a love of study, sets a good example before them both in school and out, and induces them to imitate it.

The next question for us to consider, and to be answered is how to be tolerably sure of such a school. First, go to school-meeting and elect the best man in the district as Prudential Committee. It is no matter if the same man serve a dozen years. Then vote a sufficient sum of money to pay a good teacher, and the extra expense will be nearly equalled, in many instances, by the additional public money that the larger attendance will entitle the district to. Every parent should see that the children are punctual and regular in their attendance, for irregular attendance is one of the worst hindrances to success. The same care should be taken to make the very best of the school as is used in private matters requiring the same expenditure of money. Our school system may be defective, but it is the best we have, and we must turn it to the best possible account, which, it would seem, might be made of more advantage than a single county institute.

For the especial training of teachers for our schools, we have well-endowed Normal Schools, in some one of which each town has a scholarship. Our scholarship was held from the beginning of the school until her graduation in Jan., by Miss Jennie L. Hatch. It is now held by one of our younger teachers, Miss J. Dell Martin. Some others are now in attendance, and we may hope will come back to us as trained teachers. If normal schools are of value in preparing teachers for their work, certainly we ought to be glad to have some of our teachers getting the benefit of their course, especially since we are helping to support these schools.

It seems fitting here to call attention to some changes in the school laws. Provision has been made for holding educational meetings for the benefit of a few adjacent towns, under the charge of the State Supt. of Education. To secure uniform text-books, an act was passed providing for the election of a committee at the coming town meeting. The duties of this committee will be as follows:—

“Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the text-book committees in the several towns to make a selection and recommendation of text-books, one book of a grade, on the several subjects required by law to be taught in the common schools of the State, giving preference to books in use, and in case any change be recommended, to decide in what manner such change shall be made, and to file a report of the same with the town or city clerk on or before the first day of August next following their election.”

I would recommend that we all heartily unite in securing this uniformity of text-books, as the testimony of impartial judges is unanimously in its favor. The laws in regard to obtaining certificates and keeping registers have been made more stringent, so that now a district loses its share of public money if its teacher and clerk are negligent in these matters.

I should have been glad to have given you the notes I have taken on each school, but I do not think that they would be of much value except to the over-curious. The best teachers have a reputation after a few terms and do not need public compliments. Those that have not been as prosperous as they would wish, might be disheartened by any adverse remarks, when, perhaps, it was through no fault of theirs that the school was not of unquestioned excellence. During my absence in the fall, Rev. Leonard Dodd served as your Superintendent; and, though unwilling to retain the office, expressed himself pleased with the majority of the schools which he visited. The statistics of the schools are substantially correct, calling board $2.00 per week where no price was given. You will see by them that four districts have kept the same teacher throughout the year, viz: districts 6, 7, 15 and 19. Districts 1, 3, 12, 17 and 20 retained teachers two terms each. District 19 reports no marks of any kind, and thus keeps up its former reputation. The statistics of the winter terms in districts 5, 15 and 17, are estimates, as the terms are not done yet. I made the announcement at the beginning of the year that the names of all scholars having no absences should be printed in the annual report, if no one objected. I think that it has done much good in securing regular attendance, and would thank the Auditors for the ample space allowed me for this purpose. Names marked thus *, indicate no absence through the year; thus †, no absence in two terms out of three.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

I herewith respectfully submit my fourth annual school report. Without indulging in any remarks concerning the personal merits of the various teachers, or concerning the success or failure of particular schools, I would like to call your attention to one or two of the chief causes which have conspired to make some of our schools unsuccessful. The past is beyond remedy. To secure the future against losses is ever our duty, by taking due care that none of the causes of failure be repeated. First among these has been the neglect of Prudential Committees to find out accurately the capacity and reputation of the teachers whom they are hiring. It is not enough for a district to appropriate money for the support of the school; the money must be well expended. Now good teachers are always in demand, and must be sought or they will not be obtained, as a general rule. Let committees bear this in mind and be on the alert to find a promising teacher, even though a dozen questionable applicants stand at the door. Another cause of harm to schools is the habit, which some good people indulge in, of finding fault with the teacher in the presence of the scholars. This has the same injurious influence over them that it would have over children to have those, whose opinions they respect, tell them that their parents are incapable of governing them, or of bringing them up successfully. All this might be too true, and yet it would be a positive injury to children to have such ideas of either a parent's or a teacher's ability to do them justice instilled into their minds. When a teacher falls short, in any respect, none but legitimate and legal measures should be taken to remedy the deficiency. But what are these measures? Simply make your complaints to the Prudential Committee. It is his business, as provided by law, "to appoint and agree with a teacher to instruct the school, and remove him when necessary ; and adopt the requisite measures for the inspection, examination and regulation of the school." That the Superintendent may exercise overruling authority does not release him from his duty, as prescribed by law, any more than the fact that the Supreme Court may overrule the decisions of the lower courts relieves the latter from rendering their decisions. The Prudential Committee is, then, the proper person to remedy any defects which either parents or scholars may find in the regulations or management of the school.

The town scholarship in the State Normal School has been taken up by a resident of the town during the past year ; and several of our young people have also availed themselves of the privileges of the school. Under the present efficient management the school is in a condition to offer increasingly advantageous inducements to its patrons.

In accordance with the law passed at the last session of the legislature a list of permanent text-books was provided by your Committee on Text-books, and the other requirements of the law fulfilled. Our efforts to introduce the best possible books into the schools, at extremely low rates, has been quite generally seconded by the citizens, and a more general uniformity secured than previously existed. It is to be hoped that a further change will not be necessitated for many years ; and I think the books now in use will hold their place against any new books that may be issued during the next ten years, at least.

I have been called upon but once to settle a school difficulty during the year. On the petition of a majority of the voters of District 13, I examined into the school management and general conduct of the teacher of the winter school in said district ; and, finding his conduct worthy of censure, I revoked his certificate on the ground of his "setting an evil example before his school."

The statistics of the schools and a list of those who have attended school one or more terms without absence, accompany this report. The statistics are approximately correct, but in districts 2, 9, 13, and 17, they cover only so much of the schools as was previous to February 21. Board, when furnished by the district, is estimated at $2.00. Attendance has been quite good, except during the prevalence of the measles last month.

I take this opportunity to thank the citizens of the town for the honor they have bestowed upon me for the past four years. My relations with you have been remarkably pleasant, and the memory of them will be a permanent source of pleasure to me.

REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

Schools have been taught in 16 of 17 Districts into which the town is divided. In 6 of the Districts, viz: Nos. 1, 8, 9, 14, 17, 20, there has been three terms. In the remaining Districts there have been but two terms.

District No. 1. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 34; the number of weeks was 12. In the Fall Term the whole number of scholars was 28; the number of weeks was 8. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 37; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer and Fall terms were taught by Hattie F. Van Cor; the Winter Term was taught by Leslie E. Brown. Mrs. Van Cor is an experienced teacher. Mr. Brown is a member of the Junior class at Dartmouth College. He also has had experience in teaching. Both these teachers were successful.

District No. 2. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 8; the number of weeks was 12. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 12; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer Term was taught by Ida F. Hazen; the Winter Term was taught by Charles S. Dutton. Miss Hazen has spent some time at the Normal School at Randolph. This was her first experience in teaching, but she acquitted herself well. Mr. Dutton is a graduate of the Chandler Scientific School at Hanover. This was his second term's teaching in the District. His school was successful.

District No. 3. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 24; the number of weeks was 12. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 28; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer Term was taught by May L. Davis. The Winter Term was taught by Nathan A. Heath. Miss Davis has attended the Normal School at Randolph. She is a superior teacher. Her school was highly successful. Mr. Heath is a teacher of experience. He excels as a disciplinarian. He also gave satisfaction.

District No. 5. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 9; the number of weeks was 12. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 15; the number of weeks was 10. The Summer term was taught by Mary A. Howard. The Winter Term was taught by Nellie L. Parker. Miss Howard is a graduate of the Normal School at Randolph. She is a very superior teacher and gave most excellent satisfaction. Miss Parker is an experienced teacher. She passed a good examination. She evidently tried to do well, but she did not succeed in keeping order. She would succeed well where the scholars are easy to govern.

District No. 7. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 21; the number of weeks was 12. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 22; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer Term was taught by Alice M. Waterman. The Winter Term was taught by Franklin G. Webster. Miss Waterman has attended the Normal School at Randolph. She has a good method of instruction. She excels as a disciplinarian. She gave good satisfaction. Mr. Webster is a member of the Junior class at Dartmouth College. He is a very fine scholar. He passed a most excellent examination. His methods of instruction are good and those of his pupils who were disposed to study learned well.

District No. 8. This is a union District, a part of the scholars being from Thetford and a part of them being from Norwich. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 20, (9 of them being from Norwich); the number of weeks was 8. In the Fall Term the whole number of scholars was 29, (11 of them being from Norwich); the number of weeks was 8. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 29, (10 of them being from Norwich); the number of weeks was 12. The Summer and Fall terms were taught by Charlotte B. Thomas. The Winter Term was taught by Minnie Bartlett. Miss Thomas has been, for several terms, at the Normal School at Randolph. She is a good scholar. She is conscientious and pains-taking in her efforts to impart instruction, and the scholars who attended her school for the purpose of learning made good improvement. Miss Bartlett has attended the Vermont Conference Seminary at Montpelier. She is also a good scholar and a good teacher. She has the happy faculty of gaining the good will of her pupils. She gave good satisfaction.

District No. 9. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 10 ; the number of weeks was 8. In the Fall Term the whole number of scholars was 16 ; the number of weeks was 8. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 20 ; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer Term was taught by Lou. E. Rowe. The Fall and Winter terms were taught by Alice M. Waterman. Mrs. Rowe passed a very good examination. She evidently tried to do well by her scholars. She gained their affection. Some of them, however, were disposed to take advantage of her good nature. Miss Waterman displayed the same qualities in this school that she did in the Summer School in District No. 7, and both Fall and Winter terms were highly successful.

District No. 10. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 9 ; the number of weeks was 8. In the Fall Term the whole number of scholars was 12 ; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer Term was taught by Corolin F. Slack. The Fall Term was taught by Luvan M. Rogers. Miss Slack is a young teacher, but when I visited her school it appeared well. Mrs. Rogers is a teacher of experience and gave general satisfaction. In this District a new school house has been built.

District No. 11. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 9 ; the number of weeks was 10. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 10 ; the number of weeks was 10. Both Summer and Winter terms were taught by Jennie Burns. Miss Burns is a good scholar. She is also a hard worker. The pupils in this District are somewhat backward, nevertheless under her instruction they improved.

District No. 12. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 10 ; the number of weeks was 12. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 15 ; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer Term was taught by Bethania C. Armstrong. The Winter Term was taught by Belle Spaulding.

There are some good scholars in this District. The teachers, I judge, were faithful and gave good satisfaction.

District No. 13. This is a union District, part of the scholars being from Norwich and part of them being from Hartford. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 10 ; the number of weeks was 12. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 14 ; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer Term was taught by Ada Hazen. The Winter Term was begun by Edward E. Stone and finished by Justin Bugbee. Miss Hazen has attended the Normal School at Randolph. She has had but slight experience in teaching, but she is faithful in the discharge of her duties and gave good satisfaction. Mr. Stone has also had but little experience in teaching. He was taken sick and had left the school before I visited it, so I cannot judge so well of his qualifications as an instructor. Mr. Bugbee is an experienced teacher and, judging from the appearance of his school, I should say he gave most excellent satisfaction.

District No. 14. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 6 ; the number of weeks was 7. In the Fall Term the whole number of scholars was 8 ; the number of weeks was 9. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 12 ; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer and Fall terms were taught by Nellie C. Booth. The Winter Term was taught by May A. Benson. Miss Booth is a superior scholar and a good teacher. Miss Benson is a graduate of the Normal School at Randolph. She has a pleasant way of imparting instruction. Both of these teachers gave good satisfaction.

District No. 15. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 9 ; the number of weeks was 10. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 12 ; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer Term was taught by Rosie Sargent. The Winter Term was taught by Fannie E. Ladd. Miss Sargent has had but little experience in teaching, but she is energetic and succeeds better than some do who have had more experience. Her school appeared well. Miss Ladd is a graduate of the Normal School at Randolph. She is a first-class teacher. Her scholars made good improvement.

District No. 17. In the Summer and Fall terms, each, the whole number of scholars was 21 ; the number of weeks was 10.

In the Winter term the whole number of scholars was 19 ; the number of weeks was 12. This school was taught through the year by Lou. L. Lyman. Miss Lyman was educated at the Tilden Female Seminary. She is a fine scholar, a superior teacher, and gave good satisfaction. In this District the school house has been repaired.

District No. 19. This school is composed entirely of girls. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 8 ; the number of weeks was 10. In the Fall Term the whole number of scholars was 9 ; the number of weeks was 10. The Summer Term was taught by Clara A. Ingraham. The Fall Term was taught by Minnie Bartlett. Miss Ingraham is a graduate of the Normal School at Randolph. She is a good teacher. When I visited her school it appeared well. Miss Bartlett met with her usual good success.

District No. 20. In the Summer Term the whole number of scholars was 13 ; the number of weeks was 8. In the Fall Term the whole number of scholars was 20 ; the number of weeks was 8. In the Winter Term the whole number of scholars was 24 ; the number of weeks was 12. The Summer Term was taught by Lenna B. Spencer. The Fall Term was taught by May A. Benson. The Winter Term was taught by Hattie F. Van Cor. Miss Spencer is a young teacher. She will doubtless improve with experience. Miss Benson had a very successful school. Mrs. Van Cor gave good satisfaction.

Such, for the past year, have been our schools. The teachers, as a whole, have been very well adapted to their work. The most of them have deserved a better compensation than they have received. They have labored under many disadvantages. In most of the districts the school houses are not what they should be. The seats are very hard for the children to sit on, and the appliances for illustration, such as blackboards, maps and globes, are inadequate. Under the circumstances the teachers deserve great praise for doing so well. The schools have very generally been successful. Let us strive to increase their efficiency. The common school is the only one that the majority of our children will attend. It is highly important that our children should be educated. Let us then furnish good school houses ; let us supply them with all needed furniture ; let us employ good teachers. In this way we shall so raise the grade of our common schools that it will be possible in the poorest of them to secure a good education.
